Pittsburg is now suffering from a plague of grasshoppers and locusts. We wonder if this is a divine punishment for its sins.

One of the benefits of being an editor is that you haven't any automobile to lay under on a dirty road and get all over grease and dirt.

At the dedication of a new fire engine in a little town on the Massachusetts coast, the following toast was proposed: "May she be like the dear old maids of our village—always ready but never called for."

With a bible in his hand open at the passage telling of Christ's walking on the water, Peter McDaniel stepped off a float at the Belle Island Bathing Beach on Lake Michigan into seven feet of water and got more than the soles of shoes wet, a life guard pulling him out.

At the Republican Senatorial Convention of the Second-Fourth district, composed of Brown, Warren, Clermont and Butler counties, held at Georgetown last week, Clarence DeArmond, of Hamilton, was nominated. While the district is strongly Democratic, it is believed the Republicans stand a show this year on account of the unpopularity of the Democratic candidate, Isaac W. Huffman.

Roads Reunion.

Hardin Roads and family, of Muncie, Ind., arrived here last week and were present at the Roads Reunion held at the home of his brother, Noah Roads, of Vine Street, last Saturday. There were present nine members of the family, six brothers and three sisters:

John Q. Roads and family, Samuel Roads and wife, of Marshall, James Roads and family, north of town, William Roads and wife, of Highland, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Storer, of Muncie, Ind., Mrs. Mollie Swiger and son, of Shermston, W. Va., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jaynes, of New Vienna. Besides the brothers and sisters the following named people were present:

John Roads, sr., and wife, of The Point, James Roads and daughter, Mrs. Herbert Strain, of this city, George Murphy, sr., of Marshall, Mrs. Con Roads, O. W. Storer and wife, of Muncie, Ind., R. A. McCoppin and family, of Hillsboro, John Roads, jr., and wife, of The Point, George P. Murphy and family, of Marshall, D. W. Storer and daughter, of Muncie, Isma Roads and family, of Rainsboro.

That the ladies of the Roads families are excellent cake bakers can easily be proved by the NEWS-HERALD man who eagerly devoured the contents of a large box of cake sent him. All members of the family were present with the exception of Henry and sister, Emma.

There were six men of the families present answering to the name of John, but notwithstanding the fact everybody present thoroughly enjoyed the family gathering.

For Sale

A large quantity of fine peaches and plums just received from Virginia. They are on sale now in the Carroll building, corner of Main and Short streets.

Obituary.

Andrew, son of Minor and Ann Charles, was born October 13, 1842. He departed this life August 23, 1910, aged 67 year and 10 days.

He enrolled as a private in the War of the Rebellion in Co. 1, 24th regiment, on June 1st, 1861 and was honorably discharged June 3rd, 1864, after serving his country 2 years and 22 days. He was wounded in the battle of Pittsburg Landing. After returning home he was united in marriage to Mahalle Pence. To this union were born four daughters, two dying in infancy, two still living. On March 3rd 1878, death invaded the home and called the beloved companion home. On September 15th 1878 Mr. Charles was again united in marriage to Sarah C. Fawley and the death angel came again and called the beloved wife home, July 31st 1898. He was again united in marriage to Martha E. Wilson, who is left to mourn the loss of her husband and companion.

Brother Charles united with the Mt. Zion Reformed church in 1878 under the preaching of Rev. William Smith and remained firm until the end. He was conscious until the last, calling the family to his bedside he bade each a last farewell, admonishing them to walk in the fear of the Lord and to meet him in heaven. Then he passed peacefully to his reward. It seems hard to lay husband and father away, yet there is consolation for he said, "meet me in heaven." There fore let us bow humbly and submissively to our Creator. Everything that loving hands could do to alleviate his suffering was done "taps" sounded "lights out," and brother Charles had obeyed the last command.

He was a man, who when finally convinced he was right never faltered. He was held in high esteem by all who knew him. He was always ready to assist a neighbor and friend when in need. He will be missed by all. Sometimes we do not realize the companionship of a friend until too late. The home, oh, so lonely without "Pa" He leaves a wife, two daughters, one son, one sister and one half-brother, beside a host of friends to mourn his loss.

"The sunshine of life has been clouded
The hopes in our hearts have all fled;
With grief has our joy been enshrouded,
We are weeping—father is dead."

Funeral services were conducted at the Mt. Zion church by Rev. Frank Foust, assisted by the pastor of the deceased, the Rev. D. Emerson Tobias, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Mt. Zion cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for their kindness and assistance during the sickness and the death of our husband and father.

THE FAMILY.

Of Interest to Soldiers.

Our soldiers will rejoice over an order just issued by the Postmaster General of the United States. It is that rural carriers may administer oaths required of pensioners and their witnesses. This will do away with the necessity of pensioners, most of whom are aged, of coming into town to collect their pensions, and will be a great advantage to them. Instead of being obliged to take a long drive to go through the formalities incident to collecting their pensions, they can deal with the rural carrier on their front steps and thus be saved all this trouble. The carrier may charge a fee of not more than 25 cents for administering the oath. The order also extends to the wife of a pensioner and his guardian.

Rev. J. S. Williams, of Geneva, will preach at the Christian Church Sunday morning and at night. Rev. Williams has the reputation of being a strong preacher and comes with a view to seek employment, provided his work suits the congregation.

THE POINT.

September 5, 1910.

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Pappas, of Covington, Ky., a family reunion was held at the hospitable home of Mrs. Belle Clyburn last Sabbath.

Mrs. Ida Morgan and mother, of Bainbridge, have been the guests of Mrs. Ed. Hope the past week.

Miss Sarah Hope was hostess at a party at home Friday night. A bevy of the near neighbors at The Point with well-filled baskets, gave Mr. Waddell, of the new bungalow, a pleasant surprise Wednesday noon. Mr. Waddell in a grateful tone expressed his appreciation at the good will and hearty welcome shown him by those assembled. On his return to his duties in the city next week, he will be greatly missed in this vicinity. All wish him God speed and a safe return among them next summer.

Perry Rockhold, accompanied by Master Raymond and Irvin Hope, took in the show at Greenfield Friday. Mrs. Frank Knisley, for many years a resident of The Point, after a long illness, passed peacefully to her great reward Sunday morning, September 4. Miss Elsie Gossett has been entertaining company this week.
